Anne is the Chief of Staff at Koprince Law LLC. She is responsible for strategic planning, building renovations, mentoring administrative staff, and everything in between.

Prior to Koprince Law, Anne was the Director for the Master of Science in Project Management program at George Washington University. She was responsible for the day-to-day management and operation of the program, including serving as liaison between faculty and staff, providing student services and academic advising, overseeing the distance learning workforce development organization where she oversaw admissions and developed community and college partnerships. While there she was responsible for establishing a dual-enrollment agreement with Northern Virginia Community College.

Anne spent several years in education program management and as a consultant, working primarily with non-profits and higher education. She also served in finance, fundraising, and strategy roles on political campaigns. Anne's varied experiences and skills transitioned well to her role with Koprince Law.

Outside of work Anne continues to dedicate her time to community work as a member of the Boys and Girls Club of Lawrence Board of Directors and as a founder and leader of the Lawrence Play Group. She also enjoys spending as much time as possible with her family and friends, taking road trips with her two young children, and cheering on the Steelers.
